She saw, coming up the street, her old beau whom she had not seen for three years, as he had been away. Of course, the fellow naturally supposed his sweetheart had been married during his absence, so he began grinning as he drew near, tipped his hat, and passed on, congratulating himself on the fate he had escaped. It is useless to attempt to describe the feelings of the young lady.

The Daily Oregonian

FRIDAY MORNING AUGUST 1 1884

TAKING THE STUMP

To borrow an astronomical term very much in use just now the best speakers in the republican party will be in perihelion in the state of Maine during the latter part of the month which is ushered in to day and this will be the real beginning of the stump-speaking. There will be about three weeks of speechmaking before the September election in Maine and these will be made the most interesting three weeks ever known in the state that is to furnish its first president to the United States. The republicans there have no doubt of victory but they want something more. They want to accomplish a majority which will send the star speakers singing into the October states to renew their efforts as the morning stars sang before the astronomers made them press by talking about their perihelion. Maine has some forceful and eloquent speakers of her own, especially Senators Hale and Frye and Representative Reed not to mention the venerable Hannibal Hamlin which has already been heard. General Hawley will go from Connecticut, Senator Hoar and ex-Gov. Long from Massachusetts, Frank Hiscock from New York, McKinley from Ohio and scores of other good speakers from all over the country. The republicans have their arrangements well made and they appreciate the advantage there is in a good beginning. From Maine the point of greatest brilliancy in the political sky will pass westward to Ohio which will be painted redder than a last year's sunset from Lake Erie to the Ohio river. Nothing will be left undone by the republicans. It was once said of Ohio in a heated contest there that the republicans raised heaven and earth to carry the state while the democrats raised h— l and came very near winning. Something of this sort will be going on this year, between the Maine election in September and the Ohio election in October speaking after the manner of flippant politicians. A big majority in Ohio will help to carry the doubtful states. Not even the democrats in their absurdest calculations look upon Ohio as at all doubtful. Watterson of Kentucky says "If Cleveland carries New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Indiana, Wisconsin, Nevada and Colorado with a prospect of Illinois—and he is likely to—we can give Blaine West Virginia for a cork and North Carolina for a sinker." Now the republicans do not propose to give any of the states in this list to the democrats. New York and Indiana are the only ones that can seriously be classed as doubtful and as to the cork and sinker it may be said that the cork is light enough to be carried along with a rousing campaign in Ohio just across the river. The republicans can let the sinker go down among the bleaching bones of the solid south with a good grace if they can take West Virginia out of the solid democratic list. The talk about carrying Florida is hardly worth listening to. It is a siren's song to call attention away from more practical work. After the capture of the outworks in Maine and Ohio and possibly West Virginia in September and October, then the point of oratorical brilliancy will shift again and dividing go eastward to New York and westward to Indiana, the division not diminishing in the least the illumination, any more than does the lighting of two torches from one. The last ditch will be found somewhere in one or the other of these two states of New York and Indiana and until it shall have been reached in the battle of votes to come after the battle of voices there will be confident claims and bullying brags in each army. It is however more in the line of reasonableness than of prophecy to say that republican success with good majorities in these September and October states will amount to more than half the battle and this is why the orbits of the political star speakers have been arranged for the perihelion as described above.

ARCTIC DISCOVERY

The popular dread of Arctic discovery derives it strength from the tales of suffering and death so often reported on the return of explorers. And yet comparatively speaking it is a matter of record that the loss of life in Arctic explorations has been remarkably small. It is stated that the number of deaths occurring in all the ships sent out for the relief of Franklin and those engaged in Arctic explorations up to the date of 1873 had not equaled 2 per cent of the men and officers employed. Nor have the casualties in the recent German, English, Danish, Swedish and American expeditions, it is said, equaled those ordinarily occurring among the ships on naval duty in other regions of the globe. They bear an unappreciable proportion continues the record to the losses in the merchant and especially in the whaling marine in proof of which the statement of Lieutenant Maury is recalled that the losses by wreckage around the British isles during a single year exceeded the aggregate of all these within the history of Arctic exploration."

No one discourages ocean or land traffic or any other important branch of human activity because of its fatalities. And if the results and possibilities of Arctic exploration are of sufficient value to invite further investigation it should not be condemned because of its hardships and dangers. No one is better qualified to speak on this subject than Judge Daly of New York the president of the Geographical Society. While he does not yet believe in the open polar sea he speaks in the highest terms of the value and interest of scientific observations taken at certain polar stations and maintains that they can be obtained without unnecessary risk of life. "Continuous scientific observations," he says, "around the polar basin extending as far inward or toward the pole as favorable opportunities offer will not be abandoned notwithstanding the calamity that has befallen the present expedition. No loss of life has hitherto attended the establishment of the many stations by other governments which have preceded ours, nor as the event has shown would any have attended the one established by our government had it been properly carried out and attended to by those who undertook the direction of it at Washington or to whom the command of the vessels sent out in 1882 was entrusted."

We have ample testimony from the highest scientific authorities to the effect that in the study of natural phenomena as in meteorology including electricity and magnetism and geology, astronomy, navigation, hydrography—sciences concerning facts and forces that are daily increasing in importance and influence upon our common life as civilization advances—much is constantly learned in Arctic explorations which could not otherwise be ascertained and which in so far as it is an invaluable aid to practical civilization is in the nature of indispensable knowledge—knowledge that is worth great sacrifice to obtain. It is not necessary to go into details to prove the inestimable value of those discoveries. Lieutenant Maury who is known in connection with the famous Grinnell expeditions say "Voyages of discovery with their fascinations and their charms have led many a noble champion both into the torrid and frigid zones and notwithstanding the hardships sufferings and disasters to which northern parties have found themselves exposed seafaring men as science has advanced have looked with deeper and deeper longings toward the mystic circles of the polar regions. There icebergs are framed and glaciers launched. There the tides have their cradle, the whales their nursery. There the winds complete their circuits and the currents of the sea their round in the wonderful system of oceanic circulation. There the aurora borealis is lighted up and the trembling needle brought to rest, and there too in the mazes of that mystic circle terrestrial forces of occult power and of vast influence upon the well being of man are continually at play. Within the arctic circle is the pole of the winds and the poles of the cold, the pole of the earth and of the magnet. It is a circle of mysteries, and the desire to enter it to explore its untrodden wastes and secret chambers and to study its physical aspects has grown into a longing. Noble daring has made Arctic ice and waters classic ground. It is no feverish excitement nor vain ambition that leads man there. It is a higher feeling, a holier motive—a desire to look into the works of creation to comprehend the economy of our planet and to grow wiser and better by the knowledge."

These explorations have also a moral value. The spirit which prompts them has been one of the saving characteristics of the Anglo Saxon race. It is the cradle of that heroism which keep mankind from stagnating and becoming entirely absorbed in the pursuit of personal comfort or pecuniary gain. The tendency to deprecate such rational heroism should be discouraged. It has both a direct and far reaching moral influence, for as Emerson says "we cannot heat of personal vigor of any kind great power of performance without fresh resolution."

In company with a great many western republicans the Pioneer Press does not agree with Mr Blaine in his comparisons between the development of different states to prove that protection has not been inimical to the progress of agriculture. It says "The fact is that the excess of wealth producing power in this country of cheap and fertile land for the millions over its possible consuming power has been so great that the margin of loss created by the protective system has never been fully felt or accurately measured. It need only be said that the coincidence of national prosperity with any political system whatever under the material conditions presented in the United States during the last twenty years does not and can not prove the latter to be the cause of the former. Nor can it be shown that the wages of labor are determined by the enforcement of a protective tariff."

In casting about for a man to nominate for delegate to congress from Washington territory some of the republicans have hit upon a very good possibility in Mr J. M. Armstrong register of the land office at Spokane Falls. No one in all its vast extent knows more about the territory than Mr Armstrong nor is there any man who could do more effective work at Washington City to secure effective legislation.

The prominent democrat who ridiculed the idea that there are any workingmen in the Tammany organization proves altogether too much for his party if he proves anything, but he is led to his sneer by the fact that the workingmen have already gone over to Blaine and Logan. The prominent democrat is welcome to the tough citizens with broken noses and one ear which he mentions so lovingly.

The Chinese and Malays in New York held a political meeting Wednesday evening and declared against the arch politician Blaine. This is a crusher from a quarter supposed to be "independent and harmless." With the Malays against Blaine and the New York Sun hinting that Cleveland ought to withdraw from the ticket it begins to look decidedly hopeful for Butler.

The advance in transcontinental stock to fourteen cents will keep some of the Portland holders from letting their remainders loose out into the back yard. It is where any movement must be upward as the man said when he lay in the gutter.

How exalted becomes the purpose of the prohibitionists when it gets up to the pitch of working up throw the election of president into the house! It is dabbling in the mud under the name of cold water.

Nothing can occur this summer too wonderful too terrible or too delightful to be accounted for by the perihelion of Jupiter, Uranus, Saturn and Neptune.

HENRY CLAY'S FORTUNE

A Competence Honestly Earned and Carefully Preserved

Ben Perley Poore

Henry Clay was pronounced insolvent by his hen[illegible] opponents in 1842 and they paraded some mortgages on his property as evidence of his inability to pay his debts. In a letter to a friend denying this calumny Mr Clay said "I am not free absolutely from debt. I am not rich. I never coveted riches. But my estate would even now be estimated at not less than $100,000. Whatever it may be worth it is a gratification to me to know that it is the produce of my own honest labor, no part of it being hereditary except one slave who would oblige me very much if he would accept his freedom. It is sufficient after paying all my debts to leave my family above want if I should be separated from them. It is a matter also of consolation to me to know that this wanton exposure of my private affairs can do me no pecuniary prejudice. My few creditors will not allow their confidence in me to be shaken by it." It has indeed led to one incident which was at the same time a source of pleasure and of pain. A friend lately called on me at the instance of other friends and informed me that they were afraid that my private affairs were embarrassed and that I allowed these embarrassments to prey upon my mind. He came therefore with their authority to tell me that they would contribute any sum that I might want to relieve me. The emotions which such a proposition excited can be conceived by honorable men. I felt much happy to be able to undeceive them and decline their benevolent proposition. Mr Clay never had any outstanding accounts at Washington and as he did not keep house it was not difficult for him to pay as he went.

Got the Wrong Party

Some funny things happen on the telephone lines occasionally. Several evenings ago a young fellow repaired to the store where he is employed after working hours and rang up the residence of his best girl. The connection was made and the young blood inquired:

"Is that you Miranda?"

"Yes George dear," came the reply.

"Are you alone?"

"Yes darling."

"I wish I was down there."

"I wish so too."

"If I were there do you know what I would do with my darling?"

"No George."

"Oh you brute!" cried Miranda and they never speak as they pass by, and the man who was talking to a farrier about the best plan for starting a balky mare says that anybody that will advise a man to put his arms around the neck of an obstreperous horse and hug and kiss it and hold it on his lap and whisper words of love in its ear ought to be hung to the nearest lamppost. While the telephone girl who mixed the conversation on purpose smiles blandly on all the parties concerned.

It Was a Mistake

Detroit Free Press

About this time the man who had been asleep in the corner rubbed his eyes yawned and finally walked up to the bar and growled:

"I want it straight and don't wait all day either!"

"No trust," said the little man in his shirtsleeves.

"Gimme that whisky!"

"Put down your cash."

"See here," said the man on the outside of the bar, "you don't know me. I used to be a man but I died. I had my choice as to what form I'd come back in and I decided to become a wolf. Here I am, teeth and claws sharpened up for work and I thirst for gore! Gimme that whisky or I'll let myself loose on yer trail and howl for blood!"

When the little man had hit him on the nose and in the eye and on the forehead and on the chin and when the wolf had been mopped around and dragged out and kicked around the corner someone asked him what the row was.

"Well I made a mistake," he replied.

"How?"

"Why when I died I chose to become a wolf. Why in Halifax didn't I tell 'em I wanted to be an elephant instead? Twouldn't have cost a cent more and no man weighing forty pounds would have turned me wrong side out in his fist fun."

Evening Dress

It is proposed now to make evening dress suits for gentlemen out of very thin stuffs for summer wear. The one who is daily it is to let the New York Sun know what is going on in society states that one curious innovation which is certainly very attractive to Americans has been very generally adopted during the warm weather in England and that is the wearing of evening dress by men at morning entertainments on account of its superior lightness and coolness. Most of the young men in this part of the world hold the dress suit in such abhorrence that they will shirk a promising dinner in at times rather than lay aside their heavy tweeds and knickerbockers. And their excuse is always the same, that evening dress is intolerably hot. But if they would but take the English custom of having dress suits made of extremely thin cloth they would find them vastly more comfortable. Our tailors labor under the illusion that winter is the only time a man wants full dress, but the ball season in London comes as it does in summer has caused a difference in this respect there.

Hopes to be Resurrected

New York World

Old St. John Pomeroy of Kansas who was nominated for president a few weeks ago by the Grand American Prohibition party, was banging around the prohibition convention at Pittsburg yesterday. In the party that's not at the bottom of it by the call was it sponsored. He hopes he'll be the candidate. Pomeroy is languishing for recognition. He hopes to be resurrected and when the Chinese laundry association [illegible] he would be as grateful to him as [illegible] of flashing water upon the case of the parched traveler in the desert.

RENUMBERING STREETS NECESSARY.—When the common council of this city passed the first ordinance in regard to numbering the buildings it was provided that on streets running east and west the numbers should commence at Front street and run west. There was no calculation made for streets east of Front street. Now every street from Columbia north of Front street east. People residing on the portions of these streets east of Front have numbered their buildings beginning at Front and running east, so that No. 1 can be found on each side of Front street and so on. This is a great annoyance and often leads to confusion, and is a great annoyance, especially to letter carriers, who cannot tell whether a letter is intended for a number east or west of Front street. The matter will have to be attended to, and the council will have to decide whether it is best to change all the numbers on all the streets from Columbia south, or to name that portion east of Front street East Columbia. ... Out in Goose hollow or Happy valley ... numbers on the buildings, and a letter carrier there has to know where every person resides, and before he can go ... for his holiday must find his substitute the names and residences of every person in that section, which will use up his vacation. It is about time that the matter of street numbers was attended to. In regard to streets ... the matter of irregularity probably exceeds any city of its size in the world. The original plat of the town was small and a great number of additions have been laid out adjoining it. The streets in most if not all of these have been laid out ... with those of the original site, and a map of the city at present with each addition colored ... looks much like a piece of the crazy patchwork over which the ladies of this generation are wearing themselves out.

SHORT OUT OF MONEY.—A petition asking the common council to put the city dredger at work on the Office bar to deepen the channel has been circulated and has received the signatures of Donald ... president of the board of trade, and many other prominent citizens. It will be presented to the council at the next meeting. As there will be little money left in the Willamette river fund ... after the tender for the dredger is paid for—probably not enough to run the dredger about a month—it is not known what action the council will take in the matter. The city seems to be hard up for money ... the citizens generally. It is generally supposed that the city pays a mayor and council to look after its business and provide money when it is needed. But there does not appear to have been much ... done lately. A large sum has been paid out of the general fund to street contractors and a portion of the Willamette river fund and street cleaning fund have also gone to the street contractors, whose long bills come up at every meeting of the council. The city has expended considerable money on the park, the levee and on Park street, which accounts for the depleted state of the city treasury.

POLICE COURT.—Little business was transacted in Judge Moreland's temple of justice yesterday. F ... George Brown, James Lynch and P. J ... were fined $10 each for drunkenness. O ... arrested for selling liquor without a license ... his trial postponed until to-day. The ... Henry Mace, charged with vagrancy, Mike ... for refusing to move on and Mollie Thayer ... abusive and obscene language were also ... until to-day. A similar postponement ... in the cases of Charles Nolan, Andrew ... and Henry Reimer, who were arrested at ... yesterday morning at the corner of ... Front and E streets on a charge of assault ... dangerous weapon. The name of the victim ... Lewis. The last named got into a row with the ... prisoners and would probably have been re... ... of pulp had not Officers Flynn and ... put a stop to the fight. As it is Lewis is ... up so that he was unable to be present at ... court yesterday. Lewis, whom he has been ... which he says was thrown by Charles ... The fight occurred near the old Caledonia ... where Lewis is employed as a bartender.

A BAD FALL.—Yesterday morning as John Gor... was driving the O. T. Co.'s mail wagon out of the ... grounds, one of his horses began to ... and finally fell over on the pole, ... and cutting himself pretty badly. Gor... got up to the stables and got another wagon ... which was not taken off but his hair ... He delivered the mails and re... to the stable and on driving in forgot that ... a higher seat and accordingly bumped ... his head against the top of the doorway ... himself and almost breaking his neck. It ... that his scalp was not taken off but his hair ... anyhow. However, the veteran and efficient driver will not let a little matter of this kind ... from duty.

IN EARLY YET.—The Chinese quarter is still excited over the trouble with Louis Park about the ... Joss house property, which he borrowed ... the agent some time since and has not yet re... As the Chinese have no newspaper in which ... communications concerning the matter ... their statements or the street corners. A ... was yesterday gathered around a telegraph pole at the corner of Second and Alder streets ... scanning a poster which looked as if a ... of spiders washed in ink had been thrown ... crawled off in different directions. It gave ... statement of the Joss house trouble, and appears to be very interesting to the readers.

ARRESTS LAST MONTH.—The police made 279 arrests last month as follows: Drunk and disorderly 85, larceny 24, assault and battery 3, disorderly conduct ... prisoners en route 3, vagrancy 9, roaming the streets 7, trespass 10, threatening to kill 1, ... language 12, adultery 5, insane 3, selling liquor without license 3, carrying concealed weapons ... prostitution 1, assault with dangerous weapon 5, defacing building 2, burglary 2, begging ... unlicensed 1, cruelty to animals 1, violating ... ordinance 2, interfering with an officer 1, ... with intent to kill 1, depositing rubbish on ..., held as a witness 3, laundry without license ..., smoking opium into city jail 1, no complaint ...

THE OUTGOING AND INCOMING.—E. S. Kearny, who ... the office of United States marshal for this ... four years, yesterday stepped down and ... He has been faithful, diligent and honest in ... office and leaves it in good shape for his successor, having even advanced the money from his ... pocket to pay his deputies and bailiffs to date, ... that the new marshal may have a clear slate ... with. Penumbra Kelly executed his official ... before Judge Deady yesterday with F. A. Mar... and Van B. De Lashmutt as sureties. He will ... take the oath of office and enter on the ... of his duties as United States marshal to...

... $50.—F. O. Thayer, who was indicted by the ... jury for an assault with a dangerous weapon, ... arraigned in the state circuit court yesterday ... permitted to plead guilty to a simple assault ... he did and was fined $50 for the offense. ... crime consisted in sticking the muzzle of a ... through the window of a saloon at the ... of Washington and B streets and threatening to shoot the inmates. He was drunk at the ... and as the shotgun was not loaded the mercy of the court was accorded to him as above stated.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES.—Suit was commenced in the U. S. circuit court yesterday by Edmund Smith to ... damages in the sum of $10,000 from Smith ... & Watson. Smith was employed on the ... transfer boat Kalama and alleges that owing to the carelessness of the contractors, Smith Bros. & Watson, in providing insecure staging he fell to the ... a distance of twenty-five feet, fracturing his skull, injuring his brain and eyesight and permanently disabling himself, on which grounds he asks the court to grant him damages in the sum above mentioned.

CHARGED WITH BURGLARY.—Charles Reynolds was arrested at Albina yesterday on a warrant from Justice Bushwiler's court, charged with larceny from a dwelling. It appears that the residents in the vicinity of the head of B street have been much annoyed by having their goods stolen lately—one of them having lost $60 from a trunk. It is claimed that Reynolds was caught in the act of committing a larceny in that neighborhood and that he skipped ... Albina, where he was found and arrested yesterday. He will have an examination to-day.

DEATH.—A. Y. Hamilton, the well known grocer and ship chandler, died at his residence in this city at 11 P. M. yesterday. He was a native of Lanarkshire, Scotland, and has been a resident of this city for the past twelve years. He was 43 years old to a day. Among the masters who go down to the sea in ships Mr. Hamilton was very popular, and he stood well with the business community. For the past two years he has been a constant sufferer.

REFINING SUGAR BY ELECTRICITY.—Sugar is likely to be cheaper hereafter—four cents a pound cheaper. It is seldom that this common article of food furnishes a real live almost startling item, but an OREGONIAN reporter stumbled on such a one in this subject in the O. R. & N. building, where two gentlemen were showing samples of sugar lately received from New York. The samples ranged from AAA brown to XXX crushed, and were certainly the finest specimens ever seen here. Said one of the gentlemen: They are absolutely pure. Any analysis will prove it. This sugar is refined by electricity, under an invention by Prof. Friend, a French scientist. It is the greatest money making invention of the age. Spreckels offered the company which has bought the patent $1,000,000 and $5 a barrel royalty if they would put the process in his refinery at San Francisco, but they laughed at him. ... process every particle of saccharine matter is turned into sugar and not an ounce wasted. This is not possible with any other known process of refining. Besides no other process can produce pure sugar. A company having large capital has been organized in New York and will be able to sell sugar at ... cents a ... less than its present quotations. ... Portland and Oregon receive any benefit from the invention? ... asked the reporter. They certainly will if they take an ... age of it, answered the gentleman, ... take the advantages will ... at the ... company can refine ... the ... Hawaiian raw ... turned into the ... beautiful table sugars as to run Spreckels out of the trade.

THE PRICE OF WHEAT.—A Washington county farmer who was in the city yesterday informed an OREGONIAN reporter that a great deal of grain has already been cut with reapers and self binders, and that John Shultz will begin running a header one day, and harvest may be considered a fight on Tualatin plains. The same may be said of the entire valley. A lot of oats have been threshed on the plains and turned out well. A report has been circulated among the Washington county farmers that the board of trade of Portland has held a meeting and agreed to fix the price of wheat at sixty cents per bushel. The farmers can rest assured that there is not a particle of truth in the report. The board of trade does not interfere with such matters, and the price of wheat will be regulated as usual by the demand and supply and the state of the money market. The probability is that the market will open between seventy five and eighty cents per bushel here or at the mills. ... will be very little wheat ... for ... delivered on the wharf here or at the mills.

SOLDIER BASE BALLISTS.—Three companies of the Fourteenth infantry arrived yesterday afternoon by the Oregon en route to Vancouver from Colorado. They were transferred to the ... and went their way without incident. During the transfer an OREGONIAN reporter who ... the sport of base ball asked whether the companies contained any devotees of the national game. The soldiers, who are usual taciturn, became interested in the inquiry and seemed pleased when they were told of the pleasant matches between the Buffsticks and the Stars. They had a good club in Colorado which cleaned out everything within reach, but their pitcher and catcher were both injured by a fall from a train and were temporarily laid up. Still they could scare up a pretty good nine, and as soon as they got settled in their new quarters would probably be ready for a game. As nerve appears to be no probability of a match between the Stars and the Portlands a game with the soldier boys by one or the other clubs will be in order.

LET THEM BE MY HARVESTERS.—Now that the clatter of the harvest ... and the roar of the threshing machine is heard in every part of the state it will be the proper thing for the police to put forth an extra effort to rid the city of vagrants and idlers who can all find employment in the harvest field and enjoy the royal luxury of eating bread made sweet by being earned by honest labor. The country is filling with milk and honey if whisky is ... and ... is served to threshing hands three times a day some days. A pile of clean straw will be ... more comfortable bed than the sidewalks or a ... plank. Verily the harvest is great and the laborers are few, so every vag who ... in the ... should be scourged and sent to the country to take a hand at garnering grain.

THE MATCH RACE.—To-morrow the great event of the racing season will take place at City View park, it being a match race between McKnight Bros. three year old bay stallion Oneco by Altamont and Captain Sorensen's three year old bay filly Susie, by Hambletonian Mambrino, for $1000. Considerable interest is manifested in the matter by lovers of fast horses not only in Portland but throughout the valley, and there will be a large attendance of the ... sporting men. Pools on the race will be sold at Waterman's to-night commencing at 8:30.

CLARENDON HOTEL LOSS ADJUSTED.—The insurance companies have adjusted nearly all the losses sustained by the Clarendon hotel fire. The loss upon the building, which was insured for $20,000, has been fixed at $14,874.74, and the loss upon the furniture has been adjusted at $8500. The insurance upon this property is only $4000. This loss is not included ... Zieber & McKenna's loss upon bar fixtures and dining room furniture, etc., which has not yet been adjusted.

COUNTY ASSESSMENTS.—An extension of time for one week has been granted to taxpayers to furnish lists of their property to the county assessor, at the end of which time the assessor will place his lists in the hands of the board of equalization, who will meet Monday, August 11. The date for furnishing assessment lists expired yesterday and the extension is only a matter of courtesy.

INGERSOLL.—This most famed of American orators will lecture at the Mechanics pavilion Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, August 11, 12 and 13. His subjects have not yet been announced, but will be made public in a few days. Seats have been provided in the main floor for 750 and the galleries will be closed.

EXPERIMENT WITH NEW FIRE EXTINGUISHER.—A small wooden building has been erected on the block bounded by First, Front, D and E streets, which will be set on fire at half past ten o'clock this morning. Then it is proposed to extinguish it by throwing hand grenades into the flames, which the agent of this invention claims he will be able to do most effectually.

OVERLAND PASSENGERS.—Passed Heron yesterday to arrive in Portland to-day: R. Addis, Miss Johnson, M. G. Munby, M. D. Galbraith, A. W. Galbraith, Frank McKee and wife, Geo. Rufus Ingalls, R. F. Moorse, Mrs. I. R. Moores, W. W. Carroll, L. C. Irons.

ISAAC F. MOORES.

The announcement of the sudden death of Isaac R. Moores, from apoplexy, at his rooms in Portland at 10:20 P. M., July 24, produced a profound sensation and elicited expressions of sincere regret and awakened feelings of deep sorrow and sadness in this community. The slight attack of paralysis about two months before his death, which affected only his organs of articulation and for a short time rendered his speaking somewhat difficult and indistinct, did not seem likely to affect him permanently, as he was slowly but surely regaining control of his organs, so that on the day of his death his articulation had become quite distinct, though not nominal. But the event had a much more serious effect upon him than he was willing to concede even to himself, and awhile he assumed his wonted air of jollity and good humor, there was a kind of haggard expression upon his face which he could not conceal, and which all who were intimate with him observed, which showed that his mind was bearing a heavy burden and was exceedingly weary. The ever present consciousness of a very remote probability that there would be a recurrence of the attack—at what moment it might come and how severe it might be, and in what condition it might leave him, was ... harrowing burden that his mind bore, and this haggard face was the record of his suffering. It is not probable that he dreamed that apoplexy ... this never failing dark ... by the hand of Death ... Isaac R. Moores went with a certainty but too direful ... his lodgment, and there is no more ... Though in his demand for life, Death is ... he is no ... always ... ... stepped from the stage of action ... world beyond.

Mr. Moores was born ... early in the 50's and commenced business ... taking charge of the ... He removed to ... trade there ... personally known to a large part of the ... people in all parts of the valley. In 18... he was elected to the legislature from Marion county. He was re-elected in 1864, and was chosen speaker of the house, but declined re-election in 1866. He was placed by Governor Woods ... charge of the land department of the state in 1866, where he remained until a change of state administration in 1870, when ... he was appointed ... of the Oregon and California railroad company, which position he held up to the hour of his death. His last business act being to write a letter to John Ware, Esq., of Lane ... concerning some land matters in his charge. The business he has conducted for all these years has necessarily brought him into contact with a very great number of people, and there are but few, if any, among them who did not remember and regard him with a peculiar friendship, an esteem that amounts almost to affection. This is well illustrated by an incident related by the writer by one of the present officers of Marion county, who with a large number of the citizens of Salem availed themselves of the opportunity ... to pay their respect to their friend by accompanying his remains from the depot to his late residence. He said as he walked in the procession on its sad mission a mind went instinctively back to the first time he saw Col. I. R. Moores. It was in 18... He was a boy then, only 7 or 8 years, residing a few miles from Salem. His father had made him happy by mounting him upon a horse and sending him to town for the mail. He reached the post office in due time, dismounted, fastened his horse and entered the store where the post office was kept. His head ... ... as high as the counter. He saw the ... and the genial face of Mr. Moores, to whom he communicated his errand. Mr. Moores waited upon him at once, and in doing so spoke so kindly, and when he was ready to return he took him to his horse, mounted him upon it with such ... care, and as he started ... ... him ... such a cordial good bye, that great as was the pleasure of his journey to town, it was quite absorbed in the greater pleasure of meeting with so kind and good a gentleman. This incident occurring to a child a third of a century ago was so impressed upon the mind of the man that it came freshly before him when he learned that his friend was dead, and his heart swelled to his throat and his eyes were ... while he told the simple tale, and his eyes in ... token of his grief ... tears.

Isaac Moores was ... ordinary person. Though without the advantages of an education such as ... he ... ... the legislative ... that ... he ... ... for ... ... and ... speaker ... ... his knowledge of parliamentary law ... and his judgment so necessary in a presiding officer that he at once took rank as among the best. He was one ... of the best speakers that ever presided ... legislative body in this state. He was a man of ... strong ... and ... ... but always ... ... He ... ... the opportunities ... always ready and was ... and ... ... he wanted ... ... was ... ... remained ... a ... ... a generous ... a fault ... ... hand was ... every ... for ... ... the ... was generous and kind. He was always ... generous ... friends ... often ... ... of his ... of friends ... ... he lived. He had a high appreciation of a noble deed as the ... and ... ... and ... and ... ... nothing in ... ... father could be.

It has occurred to me as I have been writing this very imperfect ... of some of the characteristics of my friend, whether it might be possible that standing thus on the brink of the dark river into which his feet have been launched, the ripples of ... ... in the presence of death as shadowed by his wing a feeling of sorrow and ... to unduly magnify his virtues ... ... to forget his faults and so do injustice to his memory. To avoid this I have thought over away from the sad place with its surroundings and walking back into the sunlight of the life I ... among the characters of the faults which a friend would not perceive. ... the political world I find at the very outset it was most pronounced, decided and aggressive in his political opinions, and upon some of the doctrines of the faith of his political party he waged a most uncompromising and relentless war, but I find among the individual members of the party some of his most sincere and devoted friends. ... ... what I went in search of in the political I turned to the religious world and while I ... there ... elsewhere that he had well defined views and opinions upon religious subjects, he had ... great a ... ... for his religious faith ... he was ... ... and good enough to ... ... to see every man free to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience and he had no enemy in the churches. In the world of business where he had been engaged so long and the ... ... to ... ... for an enemy who shall tell me of his faults but I find none, not one. I know I need not look in the social world for there he could not have a foe. His genial soul, like a central sun, threw into that sphere such a flood of sunshine that there was nothing for an enemy to live on—no atmosphere for him to breathe. There was no enemy there. If we can not learn men's faults because no one knows them, it is but just to say that none exist. It is a great thing to say of such a man that he had no enemies, but a greater to say he deserved none.

There is no portion of society which does not feel and will not mourn the loss of Colonel Moores, and the gap his death has left among his friends none surviving can fill. M.

Astorian

So much interest has been manifested in the announcement made by the Astorian a few days ago concerning the building of a new life station at the mouth of the Columbia river, that at the risk of being a little premature it may be stated that it has been definitely decided to locate the new station at the extension of the Fort Stevens wharf. The bill, as passed by congress, makes full appropriation for the building of a first-class life station, fully equipped with all the latest appliances and requirements for the saving of life, and the intention is after extending the wharf a distance of two hundred feet to place the new station there in preference to the more exposed location at Pt. Adams. Owing to the nature of the beach at the latter point it is deemed inadvisable to put the station there, as it would be impossible in stormy weather to launch the boats. At Fort Stevens the crew will always be ready, the boat can be launched at a moment's notice, and tugs and steamers cruising up and down can render prompt and efficient service should the services of the crew unfortunately be needed. The appropriation is the largest that has been made for any similar work in the United States this year. The work will be done in a permanent and satisfactory manner, the boats will be of the largest and staunchest build and the station will be of the first class. The station will be a valuable adjunct to the one now at Cape Hancock, and with it will afford effectual protection to life.

It is now seven years since the Cape Hancock life station was established, and the crew at that post have a splendid record for prompt action in time of danger. Captain Harris has had charge of the station since the 16th of November 1880, and during the winters has a crew of eight men. In summer a volunteer crew is always to be had if their services should be required.

The principal feature of the Cape Hancock station is the apparatus by which lines are sent from the shore to stranded vessels. In the first place there is a brass cannon of 2½ inch bore. From this is fired a missile very much like a sash weight with a screw eye in one end to which is attached a line as thick as a lead pencil 1500 feet long. If this line can be fired over the deck of a stranded vessel communication from the wreck to the shore is sure to be established. The first line, a French braid, very strong and ... is attached to a tail block on a three quarter inch rope 300 feet long. When the shot line is hauled up by the sailors they will be greeted ... at as the second rope reaches them with the following directions plainly printed on a small board:

Make the tail of the block fast to the lower mast well up. If masts are gone then the best place you can find. Cast off rocket line. See that the rope in the block runs free and at the signal to show ...

After the men on shore see that the block is fast they haul out the vessel a hawser 1500 feet long on which are the following directions:

Th... ... and ... fast to a sand anchor and runs over two crossed posts like the stakes of a rail fence. The hawser now being secure a breeches buoy hung on two pulleys is then hauled out and back until the wrecked persons are landed on the shore. In addition to the buoy there is a life car of iron looking very much like a cannel buoy capable of holding six or eight persons which can be sent out on the hawser if there is a heavy surf. The cannon, the ropes, the sand anchor, posts and buoy are all mounted on a heavy two wheeled cart ready for immediate use. The station has three life boats—one is a clinker built Jersey surf boat 7 feet beam, 26 feet long, with twelve sets of thole pins, and manned by six oars; the second an iron boat with water tight compartments fore and aft and a cork fender six inches in diameter all around under the gunwales, manned by eight oars. The third is an elaborate affair planked diagonally with lower hold, great high gunwales and two large water tight compartments, with a keel of iron and weighs 800 pounds. The boat weighs about three ... and is self bailing, having six check valves in her deck. She has a rudder and two sweeps and two French lug sails. It is next to impossible to capsize the boat sideways, and should she fill she will bail herself in sixteen seconds. The last two boats described are hung to buildings directly over the water. The larger of the two has been manned and lowered in three minutes. The principal boat at the new Fort Stevens station will be forty feet long with all modern improvements, and will be the best boat of the kind in the United States.

—OF—

Clothing, Furnishing Goods,

HATS, CAPS, ETC.

THE FIFTH WEEK HAS COMMENCED.

The public has taken advantage of our great clearance sale far beyond our expectations. This proves that we have superior goods, at lower prices, than any other house in town. The clothing buyers of the state of Oregon have already recognized that fact; there is no better class of goods anywhere, nor at any closer figures, than those sold by KOHN & STEINBACH. And yet one visit will convince all that our prices range from 25 to 40 per cent. lower than can be found at any other clothing house in the city.

We invite one and all to call at our place,

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, AUGUST 1, 1884

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

THURSDAY, July 31.

The week has given no relief to those lines of produce that were commented upon last Thursday. Plentiful supplies and only a local demand have continued to be the dampening influences. The small request prevents the marketing of much that should find its way here, and the outlook has not improved. The large fruit crop cannot find a local market, and there appears little chance of its finding an early outlet in the way of other markets. The same must be true of products that have not yet sought a market. In spite of all this there is an undercurrent of confidence in fall business.

Western railway stock has improved in the week: Northern Pacific and Navigation showing a sharp advance. The latter is soon to be leased to the former, negotiations to that end being practically concluded. The change will take place in the coming month. This leaves occasions some talk, but no alarm, as freight rates are not likely to be advanced, or is any marked change in the manner of business probable.

Variable weather has ruled in the week. Friday and Saturday light showers fell. The forenoons have been cloudy and cool, the nights cool and the afternoons warm, even hot. This new style of July weather has not been harmful to crops. On the contrary cool nights and mornings have proved of some benefit to the wheat fields. Harvesting cannot be called general, yet a large number of machines are at work in the valley. On the lower lands cutting is general, but hill crops are a week later. The outturn is all that was expected, rust playing but a very small part.

Overland receipts include 185 cs lard, 200 cs axle grease, 5 cs cheese, 15 cs canned lobsters, 5 cs sardines, 5 cs hams, 4 cs cigars, 2 cs cigarettes, 22 pkgs tobacco, 250 kgs nails.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours: 100 bbls flour, 218 ctls oats, 3 sks potatoes, 371 lbs wool, 374 lbs hides, 31 cs eggs, 91 bxs fruit, 5 pkgs butter. Also 43,800 lbs wool, 3559 lbs hides from the eastern section.

Receipts for the week aggregate 1479 ctls wheat, 1784 bbls flour, 868 ctls oats, 484 ctls bran, 285 ctls millstuff, 79 sks potatoes, 204,802 lbs wool, 41 pkgs butter, 282 cs eggs, 275 bxs fruit, 152 bbls lime.

Receipts for the month of July were 31,561 ctls wheat, 11 640 bbls flour, 6216 ctls oats, 2743 ctls bran, 1330 ctls millstuff, 603 sks potatoes, 340 bls hay, 1,772,554 lbs wool, 106,362 lbs hides, 3185 bbls lime, 419 sks flaxseed.

To day closes the season of 1883-4 as well as the month and week. Receipts of leading articles by principal transportation routes for the twelve months have been:

Rail shipments eastward for the month of July were 1,070 341 lbs wool, 200 lbs mohair, 3603 lbs flocks, 3477 lbs furs, 117 cska sealskins pickled, 19,68 cs 32 bf bbls 45 tcs salmon, 3 cs canned fish.

EXPORTS—Per str Columbia to San Francisco: 4200 qr 1180 hf sks flour, 2630 sks bran, 10 bxs apples, 33 bls hops, 51,481 lbs wool, 8 rls leather, 5 cs 7 b's blankets, 5 cs flannels, 8 cs cassimeres, 10 bls calfskins, 7 cs tallow, 1 bl goat skins, 9 gr 43 dry hides, 9 bls deerskins, 9 bls pelts, 50 pkgs rail material, 232 hf 81 bbls salmon, 314 hf 84 kits salmon bellies, 16 cs lard, 100,000 lath, and $21,279 treasure.

FREIGHTS—Spot business in the week consists of a lumber charter to Montevideo. The Kirkwood is advertised to take salmon berth. In futures no business is reported, although some is being negotiated on basis of 47s 6d for ward for orders. At San Francisco a brisk business was done in wood at 37s 6d @ 40s for orders, iron holding out for a better figure. This spurt had no particular effect upon the market, for it was known that shippers would go no higher. The general situation is one of disadvantage to the seller of wheat, as the small list of tonnage in sight for early arrival tells of a slow shipping movement, and this at a time when money is needed. The position gives tonnage now close at hand an advantage should farmers be willing to sell their grain, but if not shippers will not operate and tonnage will have to wait. Plenty of tonnage can be drawn this way by the turn of the year; it is only a question of a few shillings in freight money that will hold them back. It a general disposition to ship is shown there need be no fear of a scarcity, reasonable time given to arrive. It would seem that freights hinge almost entirely upon this disposition rather than any question of supply. The City of Delhi is still in salmon berth, with the Alameda, Bella of Oregon and Kirkwood to follow. The Navesink has not opened hatches as yet.

WHEAT—The course of the English market in the week has been firm to slow and closing weaker. Chicago futures have ruled irregular. San Francisco establishes an advance of about 3½c, due mainly to local causes.

Our market has ruled inactive, with millers bidding $1 30@1 32½, obtaining small lots at the outside figure. Shippers are out of the market, and are doing nothing ahead. For local trade grinding millers can pay $1 32½ for valley wheat, but what the shipper can pay is an open question. General talk indicates $1 25@1 30 for valley and $1 16@1 20 for Walla Walla. Money is difficult to obtain on wheat even if warehoused safely, and English money will demand bills of lading. The new crop will demand considerable money for its movement, and before shipping is fairly inaugurated it is expected there will be even a closer situation than now rules. Already the question of storage is being brought forward as supplies are expected to pile up. The only early outlook is via San Francisco, and it is quite probable that this route will be freely used. The valley harvest is a large one, rather above a good average. The outturn of the eastern section is still in doubt, but conceded to be less than last year. Altogether the crop is doubtless above last year's, which a mittud of 165 631 tons wheat, and flour reduced to wheat, being shipped foreign. The receipts here were 144 493 tons wheat and 50,582 tons flour, a total of 194 285 tons, against the shipping estimates of 200 000 to 250,000 tons. The aggregate supply of wheat in sight in the United States (exclusive of California and Oregon) and Canada on July 23 was 12,456 500 bushels and that of corn was 6,728 500 bushels, against, on the preceding weekly exhibit, an aggregate of 13,405,150 bushels wheat and 7 394,400 bushels corn; and a year ago, an aggregate of 18 170,500 bushels wheat and 11,612,400 bushels corn.

FLOUR—The local trade is very good; some agents report having all the orders they can fill. A good call is also had from the northern ports. Standard hold steadily at $4 75, and others offering at $4@4 50.

MILLSTUFF—Bran still going to San Francisco. All jobbers have ample stocks. We quote jobbing prices: bran $14@16; shorts $18; chop $22 50; middlings $25; ground barley $24@26.

OATS—The market has shown steadily increasing weakness, and sales were at a decline. The extreme of 46c was lowered to 44c, at which sales of best feed were made. A fair to good quality sells at 40@42½c, and the market has a weak undertone.

POTATOES—Arrivals not so large, but stocks are free and offerings are still ample. Consignments are placed with difficulty at 25@30c per bushel.

ONIONS—Selling at 1c for reds and 1¼c for whites.

TROPICAL FRUITS—Less doing, and importations are small. Oranges $4; lemons $9@10; limes $1 25; bananas $3 75.

GREEN FRUITS—The market is fairly glutted with apples, Oregon bringing 25@30c per box, and California choice selling at $1 50@2. Consignments are hard to place, and shipments are made in every possible direction. Plums plentiful and drag at 1c. Peaches coming in more freely, bringing 4c, while California sell at $1 25@1 50. Apricots sell at $1 26. Blackberries plentiful at 3@3½c. Cantaloupes bring $2@2 25 per dozen. No melons in. Currants out of date. A few pears are in, and are held at $2 50 per box.

VEGETABLES—Cabbage selling at 2@2½c. String beans coming in. Turnips, carrots, beets and parsnips $1@1 50 per package.

DRIED FRUITS—Rather weak and in slow sale. San Francisco quotations are generally lower. We quote jobbing prices: sun dried apples 9@10c, factory boxes 15@16c, eastern barrels 9½c, pears in boxes 15c, peaches 13@14c, prunes 8@12c, sun dried plums 13@14c, boxes 16c, figs 9c, raisins $1 75@3 00 per full box.

PROVISIONS—Generally firm with good movement. Nothing of new interest to note. Quotations are: Bacon 11½@12½c, shoulders 9@9c, country hams 14@15c, local factory 16@17c, eastern 19c. Lard, common to fine 12c, kegs 11@12c, best local, and eastern in tins 12 to 13½@13c.

CHEESE—Choice local 16c, other 12@14c.

BUTTER—Market shows some improvement and is firmer, with best qualities higher. Quote California roll 25@27½c, best local 25@27½c, common store ... inferior neglected at any price.

higher to-day, young selling at $3 50@5 00, old at $4@5. Ducks and geese in slow sale at $6@8 and $8@9. Turkeys nominal at 16c.

EGGS—A steady weakness has been noted under large arrivals and to-day 25c is the ruling quotation. Arrivals exceeded expectations.

HAY—Weak at $10@12 and firm at $8@10, with market rather uncertain. Few holders will sell at less than $10@12.

HIDES, ETC—Dry selected steady at 15@16c; green salted, 7@8c. Tallow crops at 5½@6c. Furs and skins in fair movement with shipments east by rail. Deer skins, valley summer 27½c, winter 26c; eastern Oregon summer 22½c, do winter do 16c; elk hides weak, 12½c per pound. Brown Bear 50c to $3, black $1@6, dark fisher, $7 50@8, pale 50 @$1; red fox $5@$1, silver $5@25, cross $2@5.

WOOL—The movement is light at the moment, both inward and outward. As to selling and buying there appears to be an almost total lack. Yet operators will take up a lot if deemed a bargain. Thus the market has shown no health and a quotation must be largely nominal. As a probable quotation we name 12 to 17 cents, remarking that 17 cents is a figure that must be largely a fancy one. A close quotation is 12@15c for valley, 12@16c for eastern, and 14@17c for best Umpqua. The bulk of trading is now in the 12@14c qualities. Operators care to do little; in all the dullness they think they see evidence of a more active market, pointing to an improving goods trade and a better financial turn at the east as the influences now working. The latest eastern advices speak very guardedly, yet more hopefully, of the situation. Manufacturers and their representatives have shown more inclination to examine offerings. The general tendency of values continues to be in buyers' favor, but consumers in purchasing rarely exceed actual wants. The hope of relief from this stagnation is not generally shared, yet seems to be gaining favor. A private Boston and New York circular of July 31st says, purchases had stopped on account of money facilities, and that the refusal of banks to furnish money to move the clip had probably proved of benefit to the market, which otherwise would have become overstocked and wools would have been slaughtered. The stringency in money occurred at a time when wool dealers are strongest as regards their own capital, and will have no worse effect on them than preventing them from carrying as much wool as usual at this time of year.

HOPS—On this coast there is no business being done in futures, buyers and sellers being at a deadlock. At San Francisco the stock of old is placed at 180 bales, 60 of these being choice and held at 32c. Stocks are so light that brewers occasionally let go of a small lot. At present a very large American crop seems assured, and it is thought this coast will pick a more than average quantity. At New York lately there has been an inactive market, the indifference of both shippers and brewers tending to restrict business, but prices have shown no important change. From England reports continue highly conflicting and the outturn is still in question. A fair estimate places the probable deficit at 100,000 cwt. This would be one-half an average crop, and America is looked for to supply two thirds the deficit. In the local market there has been no movement for some time other than the occasional receipt of one bale lots from California for brewers' account.

The Merchandise Market.

General trade has shown no decided improvement over last week. Imports generally were light, although the total is swelled by the arrival of the Navesink, from Hong Kong, and the Kirkwood, from Sydney. In no special line is the trading marked, but the grocery trade continues even. The San Francisco Commercial News says of that market for last week: "There is little to note of an encouraging character in the general market for the week under review. During the season of crop harvesting trade is usually dull, and this year is not an exception, while to add to this experience is the fact, making itself severely felt, that the trade of the extreme north and south has, to a great extent, been cut off by the railroads, by means of which those portions of the country now receive their supplies of eastern goods direct, and have become largely independent of this market. Trade is without marked change in price. The supply of choice teas is moderate, while the demand is fair and steady at full prices; old is weak and slow of movement. In coffee the market is strong but prices have ruled unusually low for some time past. The bulk of the crop of 1884 has been received. The local demand is good, while the eastern is steadily improving, and at the moment there is considerable inquiry for best Guatemala. Sales for the week for eastern account aggregate 1000 bags. Telegraphic advices from the east report the sugar market as very strong, with an advance of ⅛c per pound in raw, and upward tendency for all descriptions. No change is noted in the local market for refined grades, but an active trade is reported, and prices are firm. The supply of Island is light, and stocks are in good demand. Sales are reported of 1300 bags, grocery grades, within the range of 5¾@5½. China rice is in fair demand, particularly for the cheaper grades, but prices are without change. Later advices report the Hawaiian rice crop as falling short of the usual amount to the extent of one-third, which affects the market materially. Sales during the week aggregate 2500 bags at 4¾@5¼, which exhausts the stock in first hands. Molasses is very low. A slightly improved demand is noted for refinery syrups. Pepper has shaded off 1 cent per lb; all other spices are unchanged. In miscellaneous case goods but few changes are noted. The demand for bags is small for the season, although a steady trade with the interior is reported. During the week prices have declined.

BEANS—California reports large damage to the crop of bayos. Local market steady at 3¼c for bayos, 4¼c for butter, 5¼ for pinks, and 5@5½c for small whites.

BREAD, ETC.—First hands quote ship 5½c; pilot 6½; extra pilot 9½c; soda crackers 5@6c; other crackers, cakes and biscuits 6@14c.

COAL OIL—Dull at 17@25c.

COFFEE—Imports larger and market not quotably affected by others. Quote best Java 20c, Costa Rica 12½@13½c, Guatemala and Salvador 11@12½c.

CANNED GOODS—Heavier at the late decline. Quote corn, $1 25@1 50; tomatoes, 2½s $1 25, gallons $4; pie peaches $1 50@1 75, table do $2 50; assorted table fruits $2 25, assorted pie fruits, gallons $4 25, 2½ $1 60.

PICKLES—Kegs, $1 12½@1 37½.

SALT—No fine Liverpool in first hands. The nominal quotation is $17, $20 and $22 50. Half ground coast $2 50@10 50 as to size of bags.

SUGARS—Values steady with good call. We quote: (A) patent cube, 9½c; (A) crushed, 9⅛c; dry granulated, 9½c; golden C, 8c; extra golden C 8¼c; extra powdered, 10c; D, 1c. Quotations are for barrels.

GRAIN BAGS—Market weak with some holders offering Calcuttas for 7½c cash. On time 8c is still asked. The San Francisco market is weak under the inability of July bags to meet their engagements. An Oregon speculator is among those caught out.

SALMON—To-day brings the close season to an end for 1884, and it is not likely that any fishing will be done in disregard of the law. Canners ought to be satisfied with the size of their pack, if they cannot with the trade situation. Estimates of the pack will soon be in order, but first guesses are not to be accepted as anything like final. There are apparently good grounds for the belief that the pack will be in the neighborhood of 500,000 cases. More than this nothing can be said, for the position of the trade is one not calculated to bring out individual pack figures. The placing of three large vessels on salmon berth at this time plainly exhibits the general belief of a large pack. Only a small proportion of the canning has been sold thus far, and there is yet remaining some of the 1883 pack to be sold. At present the market is quoted at $1@1 25 per dozen. This is more of an asking quotation, for buyers at $1 25 cannot be found for the best brands. The buying element is conspicuous only by its absence, and seems determined to remain in its hiding place. By the time this year's pack reaches England stocks there should be depleted, but the outlook for any advance is quite uncertain. Shipments hence by rail are steadily fair, while by steamer they are much less than in former years. Dull markets are favorable to sea shipments, as insurance and storage are cheap. The following shipments went east by rail in July: Booth & Co. 4715, Aberdeen 950, Myrtle 308, Warren 950, Scandinavian 675, Astoria Packing Co. 8200, Union 310, Hanthorn 900, J. & West 2300, Eureka 650, Coleman 1891, Megler 202, Hapgood 300, unspecified 2,5, British Columbia pack 1790. Total, 19,607 cases.

A Santa Cruz Industry.

Santa Cruz Surf.

The Santa Cruz cannery closed its cherry pack last week. The results of the run show an aggregate of a little more than 1000 cases, or 25 000 cans of cherries. Had it not been for the untimely rainfall, the total of cherries would have been at least a third more. In addition to cherries there have been packed, thus far, 60 cases of red raspberries, 40 cases of gooseberries and 130 cases of red currants. In preserving this amount of fruit 34 barrels of dry granulated white sugar have been used, and employment has been given to about 35 women and girls and 10 boys and men. In about ten days the busiest run of the season will open, with apricots, plums and blackberries, which will be followed closely by pears and peaches. In the packing of these the services of 100 or more employes will likely be required. Apricots are reported as being quite abundant and of fair quality. Plums and blackberries show an enormous yield, with prospects of low prices in consequence, while pears and peaches of canning varieties are likely to be in good demand on account of a rather short crop. This local canning industry has certainly done much towards marketing our large area of fruit lands, by establishing a local market for the fruit products of the county, and although it is moving along in a quiet, unpretentious way, it shows evidence of being under vigorous management. The pack this season bids fair to be more than double the amount of last year.

Pacific Journal: It is said that the carcasses of dead salmon, sturgeon and other fish are found scattered profusely along the weather beach, and in some instances they are being used for fertilizing. Undoubtedly they can be used to advantage to enrich the soil, especially ground used for gardens.

WOMAN'S SUFFERING AND RELIEF.

Those languid, tiresome sensations, causing you to feel scarcely able to be on your feet; that constant drain that is taking from your system all its former elasticity; driving the bloom from your cheeks; that continual strain upon your vital forces, rendering you irritable and fretful, can easily be removed by the use of that marvelous remedy, Hop Bitters. Irregularities and obstructions of your system are relieved at once, while the special causes of periodical pain are permanently removed. None receive so much benefit, and none are so profoundly grateful and show such an interest in recommending Hop Bitters as women.

A Postal Card Story.

I was affected with kidney and urinary Trouble—
"For twelve years!"
After trying all the doctors and patent medicines I could hear of, I used two bottles of Hop Bitters;"
And I am perfectly cured. I keep it
"All the time!" Respectfully, R. F. Booth, Saulsbury, Tenn.—May 4, 1883.

BRADFORD, PA., May 8, 1875.

It has cured me of several diseases, such as nervousness, sickness at the stomach, monthly troubles, etc. I have not seen a sick day in a year, since I took Hop Bitters. All my neighbors use them.

MRS. FANNIE GREEN.

"A tour to Europe that cost me $3000 done me less good than one bottle of Hop Bitters; they also cured my wife of fifteen years' nervous weakness, sleeplessness and dyspepsia."

R. M. AUBURN, New York.

FOSTER BLOOMINGTON, O., May 1, 1879.

Sirs—I have been suffering ten years, and I tried your Hop Bitters, and it done me more good than all the doctors. MISS S. S. BOONE.

Baby Saved.

We are so thankful to say that our nursing baby was permanently cured of a dangerous and protracted constipation and irregularity of the bowels by the use of Hop Bitters by its mother, which at the same time restored her to perfect health and strength.

DR. PAUL W. BRENAN

IS THE MOST SUCCESSFUL PHYSICIAN ON the Pacific coast in the treatment of all Chronic and Lingering Diseases of the sexual organs.

He will guarantee to cure any form of disease of the genito-urinary organs, private disease, if the patient follows his advice and treatment.

He is likewise an expert in the treatment of diseases, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the FOLLIES OF YOUTH, such as Spermatorrhea, Seminal Weakness, or Loss of Perfect Vitality. Nearly two-thirds of all the chronic diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by a majority of the Medical Profession.

Persons afflicted by any form of sexual disease or weakness should delay in calling upon the proper physician. Time from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, will permit these diseases to ... their constitution becomes corrupted, their ... is gone ..., and the hope of future ... until death becomes a welcome ... Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances. Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure with ... if they are curable and if not, he will tell you so.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

Office—Nos. 132 and 134 Third street, corner of Alder, opposite Masonic Hall.

Office Hours—10 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 P. M.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, ONLY $1
BY MAIL POST-PAID.

KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood.

Exhausted Vitality, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Errors of Youth, and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretions or excesses. A book for every man, young, middle-aged and old. It contains 125 prescriptions for all acute and chronic diseases, each one of which is invaluable. So found by the author, whose experience for 23 years is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any physician. 300 pages, bound in beautiful French muslin, embossed covers, full gilt, guaranteed to be a finer work, in every sense—mechanical, literary and professional—than any other work sold in this country for $2 50, or the money will be refunded in every instance. Price only $1 00 by mail, post-paid. Illustrative sample six cents. Send now. Gold medal awarded the author by the National Medical Association, to the officers of which he refers.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE should be read by the young for instruction, and by the afflicted for relief. It will benefit all.—London Lancet.

There is no member of society to whom THE SCIENCE OF LIFE will not be useful, whether youth, parent, guardian, instructor or clergyman.—Argonaut.

Address the Peabody Medical Institute, or Dr. W. H. Parker, No. 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass., who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Chronic and obstinate diseases that have baffled the skill of all other physicians a specialty. Such treated successfully without an instance of failure. Mention this paper.
